Six Feet Of Snow Predicted

Ancient Greece To Be Water Show Theme

"A Visit With the Greek Gods and Goddesses" is the theme for the 1960 water show, to be held in Reed Pool, Friday and Saturday nights, April 8 and 9 at 8 p.m.

The Porpoise Club will portray distant realms of beauty and mystery.

Club treasurer, Jansie Setzer, has arranged and directed the opening number, along with Audrey Graeme, Sonja Wiedemann, Evelyn Morris, Bev Breid, Ann Parr, Linda Gonzales, Betty Chettle, Susan Ruckle, Holly Updike, and Totsy Anderson will perform a "Constellation of Stars."

"The Mermaids," led by Nancy Bretz is next on the program followed by such interesting events as "Nephtune and His Warriors," arranged by Jaci Webber and Betty Chettle, "Birth of Venus" arranged by Ann Parr, "The Sea Nymphs" arranged by Linda Curry, "Dianne and Apollo" a duet by Susan Pittman and Mary Hall.

"Hades," a comedy number, will be done by Brenda Curry, Holly Updike and Ann Sullivan. President of the Porpoise Club, Totsy Anderson, will show the agility and gracefulness of the Greek people in her solo number, "Athena, Goddess of Love."

One will be awed by the diving stars, Holly Updike, Mary Ellen Kilday, Ann Sullivan, Brenda Curry, and Jasenka Majer in the Olympic games.

For the finale, the entire club meets on "Mount Olympus" to swim to the "High and the Mighty" while the club officers president, Sandra Anderson; vice-president, Brenda Curry; secretary, Nancy Bretz; and treasurer, Jansie Setzer hold the flaming torches which provide the only light for the number. This number was arranged and directed by the club adviser, Miss Patricia Soares, who has done a wonderful job working with the club this year.

The script was written by Jansie Setzer while the publicity was provided by Carolyn Jordan and Betty Chettle. Chairman of props is Alice diZerega; co-chairman of programs is Ann Sullivan and Holly Updike; Jaci Webber serves as chairman of music; and chairman of the decorations is Jansie Setzer.

This show is the one major project of the year for the Porpoise Club. The purpose of the club is to foster an ability in synchronized swimming and to advance student interest in swimming.

Panel Discussion Will Be April 6

The Social Science Society and the Social Science and History Department will have a social work panel discussion on Wednesday, April 6, at 3:15 p.m. in the basement of Gifford Hall.

Each panel member will speak for about ten minutes after which the meeting will be open for questions from those in attendance. Because the audience will be restricted to fifty students, those in sociology, psychology, and guidance will have first choice in making reservations for attending. Sociology students from Bridgewater and E.M.C. have also been invited to attend.

The list will be checked for those with a 2.00 average and professional cuts will be requested for the seventh and eighth periods on that date. Those interested who have less than a 2.00 average will not be given professional cuts but will have to use their own.

Sinclair To Offer Survival Courses

Madison College will close its doors next week in preparation for the coming of six feet of snow. Professor Charles Weatherproof of the Washington, D. C. weather bureau announced yesterday that a snow cloud of magnanimous proportions is rapidly approaching the East Coast of the United States.

The dining hall will be closed for the duration of the storm, but Dr. Caroline Sinclair has valiantly offered to lead an expedition in search of sustenance. In accordance with standing survival plans, each student is to be issued a hunting license and double barreled sling shot. For ten cents pamphlets will be available on "How to Drop Squirrels at Ten Paces."

Dr. Sas with the aid of his Climates and Man classes will set up a twenty-four hour weather station on the tennis courts in order to keep the student body posted on the situation. If his findings are only "a bit vague" he plans to reward the class by letting the observations take the place of the usual map test given on the final examination.

Dr. Dingleline plans to record the observations by Dr. Sas along with other pertinent data in a sequel to his first historical novel. This volume will be entitled "Madison — The Final Fifty Years." Miss Winn and Dr. Patten are going to write case studies as lasting records of student reactions and general morale during the blizzard.

Campus fire chief Rosemary Jefferson issued a statement declaring the use of candles in the dorms a necessary evil. A stipulation was added to this proclamation by Dean Wilkins that all candles must be snuffed by 11 p.m.

During the next week raffia and whalebone will be distributed by the Home Economics Department. Classes in the advanced art of snow-shoe making will be conducted by Miss Lockard in place of the Monday underwater basketweaving class.

President Miller and Dean Warren feel that the storm will give students an opportunity to prove the value of 50 years of heritage. Students, the president said, will be encouraged to rise and meet the situation with courage and fortitude. He continued that during the state of emergency if students will remember that they are Madison ladies and keep their spirits up by constantly singing the "Alma Mater" the storm will come, be seen, and conquered.

Coomes Gets Summer Position With Army

Miss Sandra Coomes, a dietetics and home economics education major, has received an appointment to take a summer practicum in dietetics with the army this summer. She has been assigned to Brooke General Army Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Sandy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Coomes of Arlington, Virginia has been active in the German Club while at Madison College. She is a junior marshal and the newly elected chairman of the social committee for the coming school session. She has served as secretary of the Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority for the past year and was recently elected to serve as vice president of the sorority.

Seven Sororities Elect Next Year's Officers

With the termination of the school year in the close future, organizations on campus have been at work busily nominating and electing officers to serve in the forthcoming school session. The organizations of the Greek world on the Madison campus have been in the same process. This is the outcome of these elections.

The new officers of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority are as president, Marcia McQueen. Serving as first and second vice presidents respectively are Mary Lincoln and Phyllis Fizer. Corresponding and recording secretaries are Penelope Pyerson and Barbara Harris, respectively. Jean Tuggle is treasurer.

Alpha Sigma Alpha's officers for the 1960-1961 session are as follows: president, Barbara King; vice president, Sandy Coomes; secretary, Marilyn Gard; treasurer, Martha McWilliams; chaplain, Helen Caravas; membership director, Grace Arendall, and editor, Jansie Setzer.

The newly-elected heads of Alpha Sigma Tau are Catherine Phillippe as president, Mae Frame as vice president; Patty Brooks and Ginny Wagner as corresponding and recording secretaries, respectively. The treasurer's position will be filled by Barbara Myers. Margaret Hart is the new chaplain.

Having chosen its officers, Phi Mu's next president will be Hallie Torian. Carole Davis is vice president. Secretary and treasurer are June Kent and Lula Dickerson respectively. Dena Denton is registrar and Nancy Ayers is historian and reporter.

Sigma Kappa elected Lois Howard as president with Harriet Berkley, first vice president, and Penelope Peabody, second vice president. Corresponding secretary is Joan Hixon; recording secretary, Nancy Cundiff; and treasurer, Rosemary Jefferson.

The newly-elected officers of Sigma Sigma Sigma are: president, Jane Garrett; vice president, Sallyanne Lawrence; recording secretary, Mary Frances Tyler; corresponding secretary, Carole Phipps; and treasurer, Jane Atkins.

Zeta Tau Alpha's officers for the next session are: president, Betty Davis; vice president, Therse Winborne; corresponding secretary, Sue Richardson; recording secretary, Shirley Lytton; and treasurer, Beverly Hoffman.

The men's fraternity on campus, Sigma Delta Rho, has also chosen people to fill its officers' positions for the next session. The results of this election are as follows: president, Noriss Simmons; vice president, Jack Fletcher; corresponding secretary, Larry Armentrout; recording secretary, Charles Goode; treasurer, Ronnie Taylor; chaplain, Charles Rodeffer; and sergeant at arms, Bruce Leffel.

Phillippe Receives Scholastic Medal

Miss Catherine Phillippe of Madison College has recently received the Scholastic Medal for her outstanding academic achievement at the Institute for American Universities, Aix-en-Provence, France. Miss Phillippe, who ranked first in her class, is spending her junior year abroad at the Institute with fellow students from fifty-one American universities. The Institute is affiliated with the University of Aix-Marseille, one of the oldest and largest universities in France.

Miss Phillippe, a music major, has been reported by her professors as being unusually successful in her courses in piano and flute at the Conservatory of Music in Aix. This American student has impressed her French teachers with her extraordinary skill and command of these instruments. She has also taken courses in European History, French, Mathematics and Comparative Education, during which she has visited French schools, including the lycees and the Ecole Normale.

The Men's Student Government Organization finished filling the executive offices in an election held on Monday. Elected were: corresponding secretary, Larry Armentrout; recording secretary, Charles Goode; treasurer, Sheldon Layman; recorder of points, Daniel Hooke. Charles Rodeffer, president, and Chester Bradfield, vice president, were elected earlier.

Other offices of the men's organizations are as follows: YMCA—Larry Armentrout was elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association at a meeting Wednesday, March 23. At the same meeting the remaining offices were filled: vice-president, Sam Outen; secretary, Ronald Taylor; treasurer, Ralph Crabill; chaplain, Larry Davis.

YWCA Offers Place For Prayer

Do you ever feel the need for prayer? There are many times in our busy college life when prayer is what we need to give us that extra push through a hard time. The best cure for that old familiar pain — depression — is to take time out for a few minutes with God. The benefits are that we have a chance to air out our minds and relieve ourselves of that certain burden or problem. Everyone needs prayer.

The Young Woman's Christian Association realizing that there is a need for a quiet place for prayer, has provided a Prayer Room in Alumni Hall. The doors of the prayer room are always open for those who wish to spend a few moments in meditation. This is for our spiritual benefit. We need no invitation—for we are always welcome with God.

Lyceum Programs Are For You

Many students do not take advantage of the many opportunities that are offered to them here at Madison. One of these opportunities is the lyceum program.

The small number of Madison students attending the program last Friday night certainly indicated that students here on campus do not realize that the programs are for them.

Four thousand, five hundred dollars is allotted for the lyceum programs every year; this money comes from the activity fee paid by Madison students.

The committee on Public Exercises and Entertainment plans three lyceum programs a year. These programs are varied, for example this year a play, an orchestra, and a dance team were the performers for the program.

Featured on the lyceum programs for next year will be the Merchant of Venice, The Atlantic Symphony Orchestra, and Anna Russell, the comedian opera singer. All of these are well known in their fields. College is the place that one learns to appreciate and enjoy the finer arts and the lyceum programs are a big step in this direction, so make plans now to attend.

Ralph Crabill and Brigitte Bardot will star in this Friday night's April 1st, Lyceum Program, "Blonde on a Hot Tin Roof." They have appeared in many show rooms all over the country, and according to critics were well received by their audiences.

Spring Registration Will Be April 28-29

Miss Helen Frank, registrar, has released the spring registration schedule. The registration will be held on April 28-29.

- Students will register as follows:
 - Students who have a satisfactory cumulative average and are returning in September may register for 1960-61 on April 28-29; incoming seniors and juniors will register on April 29. The room reservation receipt must be presented in the gymnasium by all boarding students in order to register for classes.
 - Students making out a Tentative Schedule for summer school only will make out a summer program without presenting the room reservation receipt.
 - Students who cannot register on account of scholastic average but who hope to raise their rating this semester in order to return in September may make a tentative room reservation for 1960-61 by paying the Room Deposit and having the Receipt stamped "Registration Pending" in the Registrar's Office. This should be done between April 29 and the time of drawing for rooms. These students may register for summer, 1960, or in the September registration period.
- If changing curriculum, the student should call at the Registrar's office for "Change of Curriculum Blank" and complete the change before the spring registration period.
- Every Freshman in Curriculum II, III, VII, and VIII, should go to his Curriculum Chairman and report his choice of major. He will then be sent to the Department Head of his major field and be assigned to an Advisor in the Department. On April 29, the student will present himself to the new Advisor for registration for classes.
- Every student who is registering on April 28-29 should call at the Registrar's Office on or after April 20 for registration instructions and a Class Schedule for 1960-61.

Gordon To Speak

Dr. Howard H. Gordon will speak at the regular assembly on Wednesday, April 6; the assembly is being sponsored by the Interfaith Council.

Centered around conformity, Dr. Gordon's speech will be entitled "To Be or Not To Be." He will be introduced by Henrietta Smith, president of the Interfaith Council.

Dr. Gordon has been serving as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Waynesboro since 1956. He was graduated from Hampden-Sydney College, and Union Theological Seminary in Richmond.

DISARMAMENT CAMPAIGN STARTS FROM NEW YORK

A summer campaign caravan, stumping the country for disarmament, is scheduled to set out from New York early in June. In cities and towns across the U. S., the campaigners will interview community leaders, organize outdoor rallies and street corner meetings, set up booths at state fairs, visit summer conferences, and collect signatures for a Disarmament Platform for the 1960 elections.

Nationally prominent speakers and entertainers have been invited to join the caravan at various stops, but the bulk of the campaigning will be done by young volunteers, mostly college students, signed in for at least a month at a time. With transportation free, their only expenses will be room and board, held to a minimum by local hospitality and group cooking arrangements. The Reverend Curtis Crawford, Unitarian minister, and teacher at New York University, is co-ordinator of the campaign.

New Regulations May Cause Trouble

Madison students may look forward to some new regulations in the near future. It seems that the faculty and the office of the Dean have noticed certain laxities in the present system of rules which must be contended with. For some time, there have been numerous suggestions coming from various sections of Harrisonburg regarding the public dress and behavior of the students as a whole. Since we are representing the state of Virginia, we must at all times, present a good appearance to the general public. The faculty and the Dean of Women think that these new regulations will accomplish the purpose of keeping Madison's fine reputation. Here are the new regulations:

I. The students are prohibited from walking to any location in downtown Harrisonburg. Instead of walking, all students are requested to purchase bicycles. Roommates may use a bicycle-built-for-two.

II. With the new bicycle regulation, the question of suitable riding garb arises. It would be obviously impossible to wear skirts so the administration requires that only gym suits must be worn. Also, the students are reminded to wear socks and white tennis shoes.

III. Student are required to cease using sheets as ladders to get out after hours. Please buy a ladder from now on. Too many sheets are being ripped.

IV. Since the administration feels that the students should make a good impression on the residents of Harrisonburg, shades are to be kept up as long as there are lights on in the rooms so the interior of the dorms are plainly visible.

V. Since the Business Manager's office is going to the expense of installing a playground back campus, the students are required to spend at least an hour a week on the apparatus. The administration feels that swinging is an excellent sport to occupy the spare time of the students.

VI. The administration also feels that the campus is too symmetrical; therefore, students are requested to cut campus whenever possible. The paths would provide an aesthetic appeal to travelers going through Harrisonburg.

VII. The government has an immense surplus of chickens, liver, and prunes. The main meals each week will be chicken stew, liver, and prune whip. Also, since the administration feels that these foods possess the needed vitamins for a balanced diet, the students will only be allowed one meal cut per year.

VIII. The required uniform for Madison Students will be purple jumpers, gold blouses, and black wool stockings. This uniform may be purchased from the Physical Education Department and must be worn all year.

IX. The new exam schedule calls for eight hour exams which will start at 4:00 AM and run until 8:00 PM. There will be two exams a day and bag suppers will be handed out at the door of each exam room.

X. There will be no weekend dates. Dating hours will be from 8:00 AM until 12:00 PM. Late permission until 1:00 PM will be given once a year. Students are reminded that this late permission will be counted as a meal cut.

We Wait

by Sandy Sparks

All of us wait—
The long, solemn, endless wait
That sings of Love and Life
And Hope.
We wait—
And hear Love's whispered lyrics
Sing as the morning doves,
We wait—
And see before our eyes
Life.
It sings as the harps and flutes
Dulled by the baseness of being.
We wait—
And hear Hope sing through
Love and Life
Renewing faith in humanity.

"Breezin" Along With The Breeze

Hi Everyone!

Hope the BREEZE doesn't confuse you this week with its April Fool jokes being right next to the top news stories on campus. But it just had to be this way because we had lots of news that could not be left out and of course, we had to bring you a few chuckles for April Fool's Day.

We hope these humorous little stories will perk all of you up while you are studying all of these mid term tests. And for all of you understanding (I hope, I hope) people that we have mentioned in the April Fool features — we're laughing with you, not at you, honest.

Suggestion boxes will be placed in the dorms in the near future. These boxes will be for you the students to suggest your ideas for the BREEZE and also a place for you to put your news stories.

Well, whether it be more snow or soaring temperatures for sunbathing, see you around campus.

"BE STILL AND KNOW"

When a special season of the year draws close, many of us think of a favorite poem or song which helps us to express our feelings. The following hymn by Elizabeth C. Clephane carries with it a very special meaning as we approach Easter:

Beneath the cross of Jesus
I fain would take my stand,
The shadow of a mighty Rock
Within a weary land.
A home within the wilderness,
A rest upon the way,
From the burning of the noon-tide
heat
And the burden of the day.

I take, O cross, thy shadow
For my abiding place,
I ask no other sunshine
Than the sunshine of His face,
Content to let the world go by,
To know no gain nor loss,
My sinful self my only shame,
My glory all the cross!

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the staff of the College newspaper, I would like to express our regret about certain discourtesies shown toward a group of Madison girls who performed in a program on this campus two weeks ago. We are very sorry for the actions of this small group of Bridgewater students and hope that you will accept our apology.

Sincerely,
Duward Starkey
Editor of B. C. Bee

Dear Editor,

The Women's Athletic Association Council would like to express a sincere thank you for all the cooperation we have received from the members of the Breeze Staff. Not only for our issue of March 25 but for the entire year we appreciate your help in publicizing the program of recreation that is available to our student body.

Sincerely
Women's Athletic Association
Council

Foreign Language Week Is April 3-9

"Break the Sound Barrier" is the slogan of the foreign language students during April 3-9. This will be Foreign Language Week here on Madison's campus as well as in all other schools offering a foreign language.

Alpha Mu Gamma, an honorary sorority, is promoting Foreign Language Week by sending circulars to all schools and colleges having a foreign language in their curricula. It is to increase interest and make everyone more aware of the important role language plays in our world today. It is more essential now than ever before that we be able to converse with people of other countries.

The language clubs are going to do their best to make everyone conscious of Foreign Language Week.

If you are greeted in a way that is alien to you, don't be alarmed; it is another way of letting you know that it is Foreign Language Week. All of the language students will be wearing colorful name tags which say "hello" in their respective language. This will be a good time for you to increase your foreign language vocabulary. Try to learn to return the greeting in all of the languages taught at Madison— French, German, Spanish, and Latin.

In case this week should slip your mind, there will be attractive bulletin boards in Harrison Hall and Reed Hall to remind you.

Raines To Entertain Whole Student Body

There will be a gala affair in Blue-stone next week with the doors swung wide as Miss Raines entertains at Madison.

The grand party will be held this coming Thursday at twelve midnight and will continue until someone sees the light of day.

The main dishes will be boar's head, pheasant under glass, and curried shrimp. The latest wines arrived today for the festive occasion and Mr. Ham himself will be one of the guests of honor.

The faculty will be serving and Dr. Mengebeir will take over as head waitress. Miss Hoover has consented to toss the salad for the great day and Dr. Locke will jell the dessert.

Dr. Partlow and his wife Jane, are scheduled to entertain and will sing and dance to "Spaghetti on the New Shirt" written by Miss Curtis. Then from under the tables will come Dr. Sawhill and Mrs. Geil who have promised to give a dance demonstration between courses.

The attire will be formal and long white gloves are appropriate. Miss Raines has asked that every one be on time because she doesn't want the hors d'oeuvres to spoil, so bring your date and don't miss the once-in-a-life-time occasion.

Mary Latimer Stars In Play April 8 and 9

Miss Mary Latimer will be seen on stage Friday and Saturday nights, April 8 and 9 as she portrays The Madwoman of Chaillot in the play by Jean Giraudoux. The curtain will rise at eight o'clock on two acts in which the characters are strange combinations of reality and prototype, living in the twilight zone of the not-quite-true.

At a cafe in Paris, a group of promoters plot to tear up Paris in order to unearth the oil which a prospector believes he has located. These grandiose plans come to the attention of the Madwoman of Chaillot who is ostensibly not normal in her mind, but who is soon shown to be the very essence of practical worldly goodness and commonsense. She is, perhaps, the clearest example of the Giraudoux mixture of prototype and reality in characterization, having the appearance of an old eccentric, but with the good and generous soul of Paris and the Universe. She sees through the crookedness of the prospectors and insists that the world is being turned into an unhappy place by the thieves and those who are greedy for worldly goods and power. At a tea party in her cellar, attended by the other four "mad" women of Paris, she brings together representatives of the despoilers of the earth and wreckers of its happiness, and has them tried and condemned to extermination. In a scene which mounts into the realm of high poetic comedy, she sends the culprits, one by one, lured by the scent of oil and undreamed riches, into a bottomless pit. The exodus of the wicked is accomplished, and joy, justice and love return to the world again.

All of this excitement may be seen free of charge to all Madison students who have paid their campus fees. A fee of ninety five cents will be charged faculty members and others attending.

Presidents Should Clear Arrangements

Dean Ruth Jones Wilkins announces that it has become necessary to remind presidents of classes and organizations that all arrangements for flowers and table appointments should be cleared through the office of the Dean of Women.

This is necessary to insure properly written invitations, flower arrangements in proper containers and correct table appointments. Dress for these occasions is stipulated by Standards.

Jokes

Doc To Redecorate Tea Room Again

Doc has a feather in his cap, girls, and a gleam in his eye which speaks of redecoration in his Tea Room. This time he's going all out and has hired four interior decorators to fly down from New York to help him with the designing. So far it looks like the old tattered building will get a dressing up with new paint in the shade of "Paris Pink," and white leather upholstery for the booths with marble tops for the tables.

The men are now laying out plans for a new dance floor which should be completed some time next month when the National Symphony is to come in to play for a spring "bobby sock hop."

Above the dance floor will hang a beautiful crystal chandelier from France. Old provincial sterling silver will be used on the tables and china will be shipped over which has been designed especially for Doc's. The menu will be gold inlaid and only the very finest foods will be served.

At the entrance Doc plans wrought iron fixtures and gold knockers on a green door. Yes, everything is really moving over there, girls, and changes are setting in. But don't worry, Hot Dogs are still only 15 cents.

Fencing Rates First With B. J. Cook

by Sandy Sparks

Individuality, a dying tradition, culminates the beliefs that are characterized in personal actions and thoughts. Billie Jean Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Cook of Staunton, perpetuates this tradition at Madison.

As a three year student in curriculum seven, Billie Jean majors both in social science and history. Her student teaching in government was done at Montevideo High School.

During her freshman year she served as treasurer of her class. This year she has presided as the vice-president of the Women's Athletic Association working closely and diligently with the preparations for Madison's annual May Day. Billie Jean is a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

One of her first loves on campus is the Fencing Club of which she is an active member. She especially enjoys hiking and camping although she doubts her ability to pitch a tent if the need should arise. Billie Jean is quite an enthusiastic horsewoman. This summer she will counsel in riding at Camp Wynigonic in Maine.

It is always a difficult task to portray the personality of someone we know. All of us see ourselves through the eyes of others. Our perspectives differ according to our positions. But, no matter from which position individuality is observed, it is always an admirable trait. Billie Jean Cook is admired as an individual by all who know her.

Stockdale Will Present Recital Sunday, April 3

Marydel Stockdale, soprano, will give a recital in the campus school auditorium at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 3. Her accompanist will be Marcia E. McQueen, and assisting will be Rebecca Ann Louderback, flutist.

Miss Stockdale, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Layton H. Stockdale of Winchester, is in curriculum XII and is a student of Miss Gertrude Bureau. During her four years at Madison she has been in the Stratford Players and the Madrigal Singers, where she held the office of president this year. For two years she was soloist with the Madison College Concert Orchestra, and served as secretary for one year.

Miss McQueen, pianist, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. McQueen, Jr., of Arlington. She is a junior music major in curriculum VII. She is the chaplain of Sigma Alpha Iota, corresponding secretary for Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity, and a member of the Diapason Club. At times she has assisted as pianist with the College Orchestra, and has for three years been the accompanist for the Women's Chorus. Marcia's teacher is Miss Elizabeth Harris.

Miss Louderback, a freshman, comes from Stanley, where she was active in the band, glee club and orchestra, having played in all-state organizations. At Madison she plays in the orchestra and in the College Wind Ensemble. Her teacher is Mr. Bennett Reimer.

The program will include three operatic arias, Schubert's "Ave Maria," three Richard Strauss lieder, "Nymphs and Shepherds" by Purcell, "Lilacs" by Rachmaninoff, three songs from a light opera by Offenbach, and arrangements of three American Indian melodies.

Study

The high-school girl of the breezy manner was seated next to the famous astronomer at dinner and in the course of conversation she asked him, "Well, what are you doing with your life, pal?" "I study astronomy," the great man told her. "Golly, at your age!" exclaimed the girl. "Why, I finished astronomy last year."

"You look awfully tired, young man," observed a kindly old lady to a weary-looking fellow sitting on a bus with a lapful of books. "I am tired, ma'am," he informed her. "I'm studying for a doctor." "But that's outrageous!" she cried indignantly. "You tell that doctor to do his own studying and you get some sleep."

Exchange Student, Tink Phillippe Tells More Of Travel Abroad

Dear Students,

When I first began this series of articles, I thought I would never run out of things to tell you. Each day something new happens or someone gets into a humorous situation. Now, however, I have come so "adjusted" that these things seem completely normal — almost. Seriously though, it is necessary to place myself in an observant frame of mind to write to you, and life here runs much more smoothly if one lives and accepts, and does not observe.

For instance, yesterday. As I mentioned before, we are planning to rent a car and drive through northern France at Easter. This would entail, according to any fairly logical thinking, obtaining a driver's license. As you will see, it often becomes foolhardy to think logically in France.

We first went to the police station here in Aix and were told there that we must obtain an International Driver's License—from the Prefecture in Marseille. So we hopped on the trolley bus and took the hour ride to Marseille. Thinking we ought to have some definite information, we went to the American Consulate, and learned to our distress that there was nothing we could do but what we would have to go to the Prefecture.

Having arrived at this building, we went to the "Bureau of Driving Permits" and were immediately sent to the "Bureau of International Grey Cards". Here we were given forms to be filled in and told to buy an official fiscal stamp for the forms. Now one might imagine that in the most official buildings of Marseille that one could purchase this official stamp. Error, these can be bought only in a tobacco shop.

Having bought this stamp (of course there are not tobacco shops near the Prefecture—we had to walk five blocks to find one), we returned to face the battle once again. There followed an argument with the clerk as to whether or not we had all the required papers. We claimed we did; but apparently we did not, there being one paper concerning our temporary address which we lacked. We immediately pulled out our "Cartes de Sejour", or rather our temporary "Cartes de Sejour" (I have only been here six months, and I am still trying to get the official card which says I am going to live here this year). This was a mistake! The minute we showed those, we were told we could not get an international driver's license because we were no longer tourists and that it was necessary for us to obtain a French driver's license (which of course is impossible because we are not permanent residents—we are tourists). Besides, an international driver's license is not good in France if it is issued here. Very foolishly we asked just how they expected us to cross the borders of other countries, and they replied that we could not! It is at times like these that I feel my French to be inadequate.

Alors, back to the Consulate to demand our "rights" as American citizens. They called the Prefecture and argued with them too, but ended up by suggesting we take a train or stay in Aix.

Not caring at all for this idea, we went to American Express for help. They were not sure of the laws, but suggested asking at the Touring Club of France. Determined to gain our cause, we walked the ten or more blocks to the Touring Club, where we were told, approximately two hours and a half after we had started this horrible venture, that we simply need a valid state-side license to drive anywhere in a rented car. And the trouble is that these things are typical! Ah yes, beautiful France, where the purpose of the schools is to train an "intellectual elite".

As I said, one becomes adjusted to these things after one learns not to observe or think about them. And there are so many things which make up for it. For instance, the beautiful spring weather we are having and there are no rules about sunbathing back campus here.

Another recently passed advantage was the Mardi Gras Carnival—ten days of parades, street dancing, open-air concerts, and all the usual carnival rides and games. This is a time when the oldest people living here come out and act like children, taking part in all activities. One activity is the confetti battle which takes place on the main street of town. The street is blocked off, and everyone walks along throwing confetti at each other, stuffing it down each other's mouths, and dropping it into the drinks of people foolish enough to stop at a sidewalk cafe for some coffee—or something.

And thus another month has passed by. That leaves just three more of actual studies for me, and then I begin the trip homeward. I wonder if I'll get my permission to live here in that short a time?

Love,
Tink

Men Speak

Here are some late news flashes:

The Men's Student Government Organization is going to invest in a deluxe orange juice squeezer with the remaining funds.

.....Be sure to send get-well cards to the janitors who are recuperating from the hard labor involved in shoveling snow.....

.....The men are really enjoying wading in the dirt of the day room.....

.....Attention! The eating establishment across the street announces that their "lightening fast" service will be serving only fish for Friday suppers.....

.....The Madison Dukes have returned from a victorious National Invitational Basketball Tournament. Once again, the Dukes have had an undefeated season.....

.....The athletic staff is still looking for football talent to fill out the squad for this fall. Our football team will play their opening game in the new football stadium.....

.....Everyone is anxiously awaiting the publishing of the yearbook—The SCHOOLMASTER.....

.....The tea room is now giving Green Stamps.....

.....The last "call down" given to a man student was two weeks ago. He still can't understand why he is not allowed to keep his pet monkey in the men's dorm.....

.....And remember—rules are for when brains run out. (quoted from George Papashvily).....

APRIL FOOL to you too!

Special Assembly Called On April 4

There will be a called special assembly on Monday, April 4, at 12 o'clock noon. Attendance at this assembly will be compulsory for all boarding students and the purpose of it is to explain the housing situation for students for 1960-61.

Because of the unusually large increase in the number of applications from new students, the college is experiencing some difficulty in working out the housing arrangements for next year; therefore, it seems advisable to explain the plans for housing students which will become effective in September 1960.

Campus Closeups

by Carol Ann Rowzie

SPRING HAS SPRUNG

They call it "the fever." You should know what it is, for you, too, are smitten. It first hit you a few days ago when a balmy breeze blew in from the south, bringing the birds and the bees and stirring up a restless feeling within you. Dr. Dingle-dine noticed it Monday afternoon in one of his classes and mentioned, "You used to be complaining about all that cold weather and now it's too hot for you. How can you pacify them?" Oh, you weren't complaining and beneath his jest, you knew he understood.

Again you felt the fever when you fought that irresistible urge to don bathing suit and run back campus for an early tan. You were mistaken the other day when you thought you saw sunbathers on the big rock in front of Sheldon. It was merely Dr. Diller's Art 16 class on an outing. Overheard was a remark from one young artist who, instead of sketching, was busy scratching, "It's spring all right. The Ants are out too!"

You are swept along in the gay chatter of excited friends, strolling to class or to Doc's. Isn't it wonderful? Oh, yes, I do hope it's here to stay. These buds on the trees. Whew! I feel so light, I think I can...fly! Mmmm...now for a ride in one of those convertibles.

What is this invisible power that captures you as you listen? You have no resistance. You don't even want to resist. Suddenly, it grips you by your very soul, urging you to run, to feel the wind combing your hair and the sun burning your face. You are madly, impetuously in love. For it is spring and you have "the fever!"

Sports Chat With Pat

by Pat Dean

Spring intramurals start this coming week as "Strikers," "Hole-N-Ten," and "La X" come in to season. Leading the "Strikers" on the muddy fields of Madison is Wiggles Wickham. Jeanie B. B. Brinkley will lead the golfers — where to is a good question. Nancy "See-Moore as You Go" will head the "La X" group.

Time out to congratulate a few members of the student body and faculty for performing outstanding public services.

Miss Hester has recently been awarded the "White Leg" for placing first in the down-hill slalom during the Winter Olympics. We're sure Miss Hester is proud of her badge of honor for she has worn it with great dignity for the past two months.

After considerable thought the Junior Majors have all decided to join forces and call themselves "The Majors and Company" so that the value of their dancing will extend to all corners of the world. Realizing that not everyone can afford to pay the cost of such fine material, the Majors have chosen one person to take care of financial matters. Therefore, whether for lessons or performances, see Miss Evelyn at her dance studio in Wayland.

For any of you blood-thirsty individuals who were dissatisfied with the limited number of frogs to slice up in biology lab, the Zorro Club is again holding a contest. They will supply the swords, just come prepared to cut up next Thursday night at 7:00.

Just one more thing of interest — the Annual All-Star Chariot Race will take place on the "Quad" next week. Racing for the Purple and Gold are Suzanne, Berta, Alice, Liz, Ellen, and Jane.

Until next time remember . . .

Six Major Officers Installed At Assembly

The newly elected major officers were installed at the Wednesday assembly.

The orchestra was under the direction of Clifford T. Marshall. The choir sang several selections. Dr. Crystal Theodore presented a speech entitled, "The Importance of Being as Excellent as One Can."

Suzanne Cale, outgoing president of the Student Government Association, and Berta Biritos, outgoing president of the Honor Council, gave short talks. Carolyn Morrison, incoming president of the Student Government Association, and Nancy Harman, president of the Honor Council, presented talks.

Unitarians To Have Speaker

Interested students are invited to hear Mrs. Paul Blanshard speak on "Civil Rights and American Citizenship," Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. April 3, in the Riviera Room at Belle Meade restaurant. This talk is sponsored by the Harrisonburg Unitarian Fellowship.

Mrs. Blanshard is Executive Director of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice. She is the wife of the author, Paul Blanshard, whose books have often been on the best seller list and whose recent book "God and Man in Washington" was a Book Find Club choice.

Mrs. Blanshard has been active for many years in organizations interested in social justice and social change. These include the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, the National Consumers League, the League for Industrial Democracy, and the Post-war World Council. She has lived for extended periods in Jamaica, Mexico, Dublin, London and Rome.

Last summer Mrs. Blanshard and her husband travelled extensively in Spain and Portugal, studying the church-state situation. For several years Mrs. Blanshard wrote a monthly column, "A Unitarian in Washington," for the Unitarian Register.

It's "No Doz" for Dr. Charles Caldwell who has recently designed a new couch for his partners in telepathy dedicated to instant psycho-analysis.

Student Observes Faculty In Action

by Sandie Hepp

The first beautiful day of spring ... a tossing of the books out the window and there I was off with the girls on a stroll around campus. First I stopped by Ashby gym for a minute to pick up some tennis shoes I had forgotten. Suddenly I was almost crushed by Miss Gutchow as she rushed over to join Miss Winn in a pia on the shiny floor. Grabbing my shoes I then cut over to the P. O. Lobby where I found Dean Wilkins entertaining Dr. Eby who was playing sax in white deck pants while "Dr. Dinkledean" made like "wild" with the dance. As I walked by, Dr. Sass started singing "I've got crazy A's for you Baby", and Miss Walker smiled at me during a breath between piccolo puffs.

Deciding I was a little thirsty, I made my way through the crowd to the tea room. When I got to the counter, however, Dr. Grimm was sitting among the crackers dissecting a salamander while Dr. Grun looked on through a microscope. Giving up the thought of refreshment, I turned to leave when I noticed Mr. Laughrun and Dr. Curtis with beards and black berets in a corner. I wandered over near them to see if I could pick up some of the conversation. They were deeply engrossed in a new book by Dr. Fodaski called, "A Tulip for Penelope."

I then left the tea room and walked up the hill to Wilson. I noticed droves of students going into the auditorium and so stuck my nose in to see what was the occasion. There was Mr. Gibbons giving a piano recital while Dr. Gildersleeve sold tickets and did the back-staging. He was very upset because Dr. Patton was out of town on a tour of the U. S. with his "Shenandoah" of Shenandoah. Dr. Gildersleeve now had no one to do the lighting but Dr. Glenn C. Smith who had to leave presently for a swim meet. Suddenly I heard the beep of a horn and rushed to the door just as Reverend Rhien was pulling up in a white sports car with a plaid cap on his silver head. He was dropping off Dr. Sinclair who had been very upset ever since a cheese souffle didn't souffle right in front of her Home Economics class. As I watched her get out of the car, I couldn't help overhearing two students behind me who were very enthused about Dr. Latimer's appearing on the Grand Ole Opry this Saturday night.

Leaving Wilson, I made my way to Reed but not before stopping into Dr. Poindexter's office to sign up for an observation. The secretary was out, however, and Dr. Poindexter was busy in a game of poker with Dean Talbert. Leaving them, I walked up to the second floor where I was almost drowned by Mr. Stewart and Dr. Woelfel who were having a water

Eberhart To Speak For Arts Festival

Richard Eberhart, consultant in poetry at the Library of Congress, will be guest lecturer at the Madison College fine arts festival, May 4-7.

Also lecturing will be John Walker, director of the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C.

The four-day program will begin Wednesday, May 4, with a concert by the William and Mary Choir under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr.

The program will include a piano and oboe recital by Henry Black and Bennett Reimer, both of the Madison College music faculty; a modern dance program by the Orchesis dance group; a crafts-in-progress exhibit; and an exhibition of alumni, faculty, and student art in Alumnae Hall.

The program will conclude Saturday night with the award-winning Indian film, "Pathar Panchali."

Richard Eberhart, who succeeded Archibald MacLeish as consultant in poetry at the Library of Congress, was born in Austin, Minn., in 1904, and was educated at Dartmouth, Cambridge, and Harvard.

He served in the Naval Reserve during World War II and later joined the Butcher Polish Co. of Boston. Since 1952 he has been poet in residence, lecturer, or professor at the University of Washington, the University of Connecticut, Wheaton College (Norton, Mass.), Princeton, and Dartmouth.

Eberhart's first book, "A Bravery of Earth," appeared in 1930. His other works include "Reading the Spirit" (1936), "Selected Poems" (1951), "Undercliff, Poems 1946-1953" (1957), and "Great Praises" (1957).

His poems have won him the Harriet Monroe Memorial Prize, the Shelley Memorial Prize, and a grant from the National Institute of Arts and Letters. He contributes book reviews to the New York Times and critical articles both here and abroad.

The founder and first president of The Poet's Theatre, Inc., Cambridge, Mass., Eberhart is currently a member of the President's Advisory Committee on the arts for the National Cultural Center in Washington.

CLUB CORNER

Jo Artz will be the speaker at the next regular meeting of the Lutheran Student Association at 6:45 in Alumni Hall on Tuesday, April 5. Jo will speak to the group on opportunities for Summer Service Work. Jo, who graduated from Madison last year, was a past president of the LSA and worked under the Summer Service Program. Election of officers will be the main order of business at the meeting.

Nancy K. Clements will lead the Ex Libris Club for the coming year. Aiding the president will be Sandra Virginia Smith, vice president. Janice Clinedist, secretary; Sandra UMBERGER, treasurer; and Carol Eudaily, reporter.

All students are invited to an open meeting of the Criterion Club to be held in Wilson Hall, Room 32, Wednesday, April 6 at 8:00 p. m. Dr. Martha Fodaski, Mr. David Diller, and Mr. Bennett Reimer will serve as panel members discussing "The Function of the Arts."

Students are also reminded of the open invitation to hear John Carter, guitarist, Saturday night, April 2 at 9:00 p. m. in Gifford recreation room. See last week's BREEZE for details.

W.U.S. Fund Raising Program Starts Soon

A fund raising program for the World University Service will be launched on campus; the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring the program and a goal of $300 has been set.

The W. U. S. is an organization composed of the U. S. and forty one other countries, the W. U. S. helps meet the basic needs of universities and other institutions of higher learning and their members.

The fight against poverty, hunger, sickness, and despair at colleges throughout the world takes different forms in different countries. In Europe where World War II disrupted lives and weakened the physical and moral fibre of almost every student, W. U. S. offered aid to refugees, provided medicines, and food, and contributed to the operation of an international center offering rest cures.

The students who depend on World University Service for help depend on you. It is through the generosity of American college students and teaching staffs that most of the projects in the World University Service program are realized.

Because these foreign students make sacrifices to attend institutions of higher learning, many colleges in the U. S. have fund raising campaigns to help these students.

Guess Who

This pretty little two year old is now a senior here at Madison. See if you can guess who it is. The first person submitting the correct answer to the BREEZE, Box 28, will win a free pass to the theatre.

Freedom Contest Open To Students

Six residents of the United States will win free trips to Europe this year by writing Truth Messages to be broadcasted behind the iron curtain. In addition, a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica and a Crusade for Freedom Scroll of Merit will be given for the best entry from each state.

Truth messages will be written and judged on a contest basis starting on April 30, 1960. Entry blanks have been distributed in colleges throughout the United States. Any student wishing to participate in this Crusade for Freedom may see Carolyn Morrison, president of the Student Government Association, in regard to filling out the entry requirements.
